

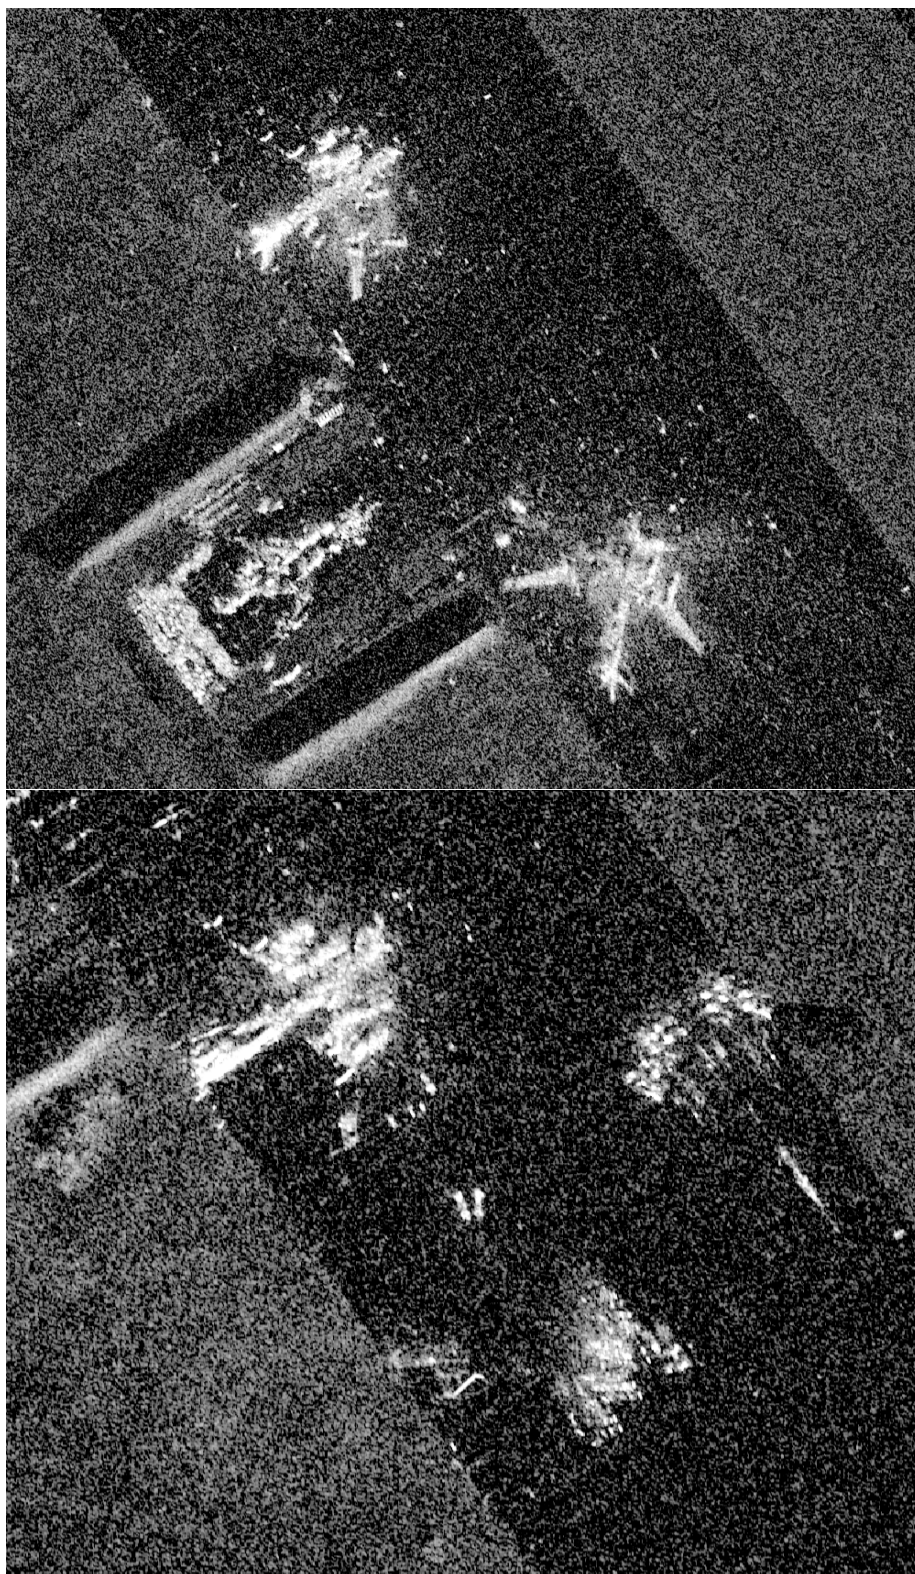

Figure 1: Destroyed aircraft, which can be recognised by the separated parts of their structure and smaller debris around them.

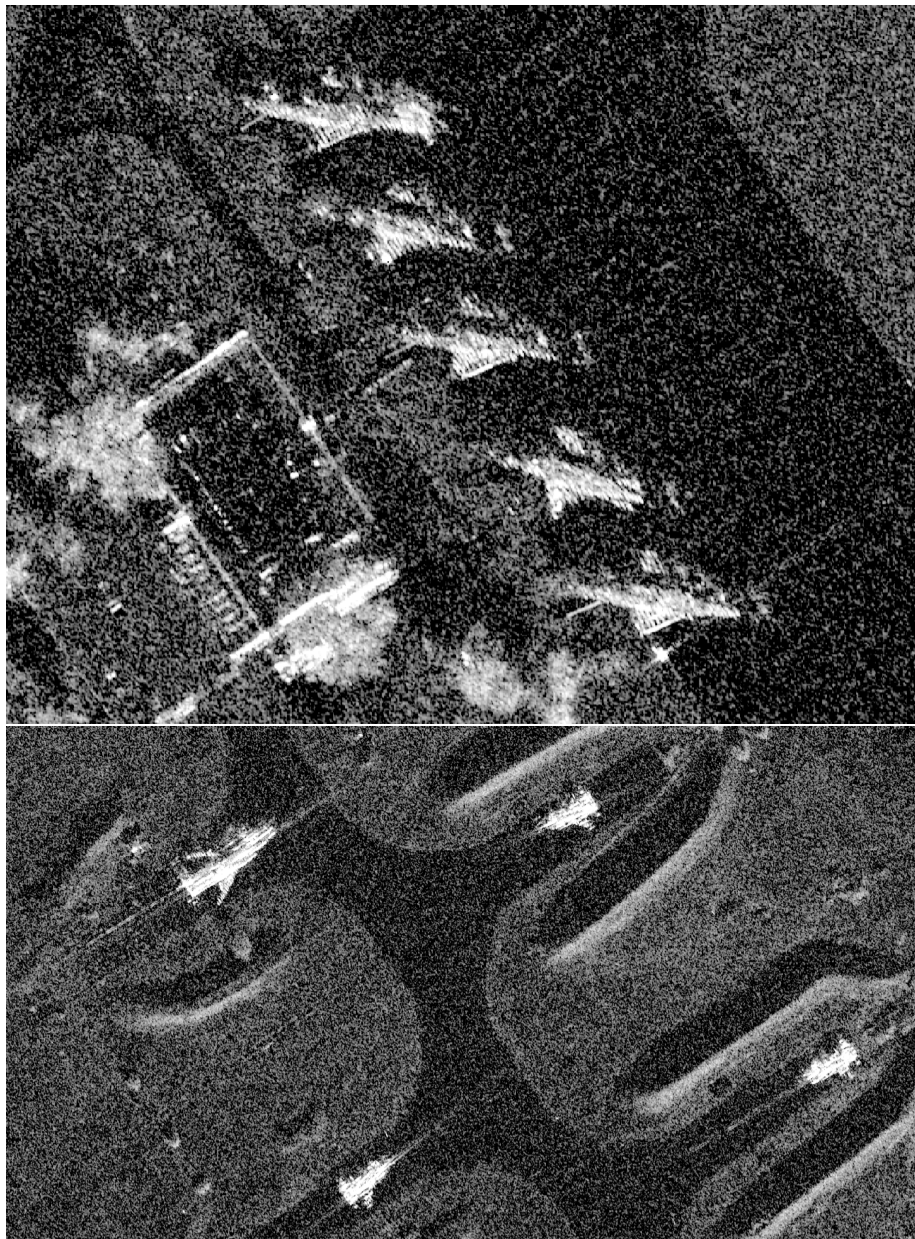

Figure 2: Unaffected aircraft, their structure is complete with no detached pieces, there is also no random backscattering from smaller debris.